

COVID-19 AND YOUR BUSINESS: ISSUES TO BE AWARE OF DURING THE PANDEMIC

FREE WEBINAR COVID-19 and Your Business: Issues to be Aware of during the Pandemic

Government agencies, both federal and state, are offering stimulus programs to help small businesses weather the storm of the COVID-19 pandemic. The United States Small Business Administration and the New Jersey Economic Development Authority are doing what they can, but it can get both overwhelming and confusing, especially with some of these funding sources quickly becoming oversubscribed. In addition, businesses are facing competing demands in this trying time, including pressure from vendors seeking to get paid and customers trying to modify payment terms.

Join Laddey Clark & Ryan Business Law Attorneys – Practice Leader Angelo J. Bolcato, Esq. and Shan H. Kadkoy, Esq. – for a free 45-minute program where they will help you understand and navigate these unfamiliar waters.

Thursday, April 23, 2020
10:00 – 10:45 a.m.

Key topics will include:

- Overview of NJEDA and SBA support programs currently available
- Issues that businesses have encountered dealing with the government programs
- Other programs that businesses may be able to consider
- Contract issues that you may encounter during the pandemic
- Insurance issues to consider

ABOUT YOUR PRESENTERS

Angelo J. Bolcato, Esq. has over 25 years' experience counseling small and mid-size business on a variety of business issues. In between start-up and retirement, Angelo helps to develop strategies for success. In addition, he routinely represents our banking clients in complex commercial lending matters and loan restructuring. He also has significant experience representing non-profit organizations. In addition to assisting business clients, Angelo works with municipalities and their agencies and authorities.

Shan H. Kadkoy, Esq focuses his practice in Wills, Trusts & Estates and Government Services. Prior to joining Laddey, Clark & Ryan, Shan served as a Judicial Law Clerk to the Honorable Mary Siobhan Brennan, J.T.C., in the Tax Court of New Jersey. Shan graduated from the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law where he was on the business law track. Shan developed his interest in tax as a student attorney in the University of Maryland's Low Income Taxpayer Clinic. His time in the Clinic was extended to serve as a teaching assistant.
